After a little delay the forecasts for 2016 for the twelve moon signs are uploaded and published. The delay happened due to a small fault with the website's server settings which now has been corrected. The forecasts are based on the moon signs or janma rashis but those who are aware of their ascendants should read the moon sign forecast for the same. For example, if your moon sign is Libra but the ascendant is Gemini then you should read the forecast for Gemini-Mithun.

If you are not aware of the ascendant and know only the janma rashi or the moon sign then read the forecast for the same. The forecasts are generalized ones. For accurate predictions about your horoscope consult a jyotishi with your exact birth details.
